WEDNESDAY, SEPT. 12, 1855.

It is but seldom that we are fortunate enough to sit down to such a splendid repast as that provided last night by Dr. Holmes in his lecture on the poet Wordsworth. In view of the fact that the Doctor had chosen "The Excursionist" as the subject of his first lecture, we imagined that his idea of Wordsworth's poetry was more exalted than our own; but the masterly style in which he proceeded to analyze the voluminous works of the poet, enabled us soon to discover our mistake, and to find out that in criticism as in poetry the lecturer was entitled fully to the exalted reputation he enjoys.

Although many among his large audience were inclined to think Wordsworth "dry and uninteresting"—and we confess ourselves as among the number—there can be but one opinion as to the excellence of "Holmes on Wordsworth." The poetry, wit, and eloquence of the talented lecturer are too widely known to require notice from us; but, notwithstanding his reputation in these particulars, we confess we were unprepared for such a masterly exposition of them as his subject called forth last night.

The graceful tribute which he paid to "Woman's Worth," in allusion to an error in the Journal in calling attention to the lecture, and his own beautiful lines, with which he concluded his discourse, drew down, as they deserved, the marked approbation and applause of his delighted audience.

To-morrow night, the Doctor gives his second lecture on "Moore and Byron," and as both the lecturer and the poets are the prime favorites of this generation the Church will doubtless be crowded.

A DISPENSARY.—A few philanthropic gentlemen have contributed the funds necessary for the establishment of a dispensary; and, by reference to an advertisement in another column, it will be seen that they propose opening this much needed charity on Thursday morning, in the building hitherto used by the pupils of the Institution for the Blind as a manufactory, situated on Seventh street, between Walnut and Chestnut. The single object proposed by the managers of the dispensary is to afford medical advice and medicines gratuitously to the indigent sick, of whom our city just now contains a very large number. Two physicians have kindly consented to take charge of the institution and repair there daily, at regular hours, for the purpose of examining and prescribing for all sick persons who may present themselves. Arrangements have been made with a competent druggist, who will furnish all the medicines required, looking to the managers alone for his remuneration.

We feel that we cannot too highly commend this dispensary to all sick persons, who, from the general depression of the times, or misfortune, or any other circumstances, are unable to command good medical attention or purchase the necessary remedies.

The Eastern mail was a total failure last evening—the cars on the Ohio and Mississippi railroad having failed to connect at Seymour with the train of the Jeffersonville railroad.

P. S.—We learn from the Messenger of Adams & Co.'s Express, to whom we are indebted for Cincinnati papers, that a spring of the locomotive on yesterday morning's train for Cincinnati was broken, which caused the machine to run off the track. After a delay of 45 minutes the train was able to proceed.

Louis Napoleon has been doing the sweet to Victoria, kissing her on both cheeks—leaving the British Queen nothing further to present him for salute.—New York Express.

Why were are her dear Majesty's lips? When France's ex-lover was kissing her first upon one cheek and then upon the other, hadn't he the courage and the good taste to pause for an all-blissful moment half-way between the two?

A correspondent of the St. Louis Democrat, writing from Westport, Mo., under date of the 31st ult., announces the arrival of Governor Shannon there. He was received by Stringfellow and other members of the Kansas Legislature. He made an address subsequently, in which he approved all the acts of the Legislature, and avowed himself in favor of the establishment of slavery in Kansas.

ANNUAL EXHIBITION OF THE HORTICULTURAL SOCIETY.—It will be seen from an advertisement that the annual exhibition of the Horticultural Society will commence on Tuesday next and continue for three days. It will doubtless be the finest that has ever taken place. The exhibition will be held at the hall of the Mechanics' Institute, corner of Walnut and Second streets.

Mr. Enoch Everett, a respectable citizen of Mobile, was drowned on the 4th inst.

RIVER AND STEAMBOAT MATTERS.

The river was still falling yesterday. Last evening there were 7 feet 10 inches water in the canal, 4 feet 8 inches over the rocks, and 5½ feet in the pass on the falls. We had a slight shower last evening and the weather continued to have the appearance of morerain.

The St. Louis Republican, or Monday, says:

The river at this point is rising slowly, with 7 feet in the channel to Cairo. The Illinois is at a stand, with 3 feet to LaSalle. The last report from the Lower rapids was 20 inches—not navigable except for very small craft. The Missouri river is reported at 4 feet in the channel to St. Joseph.

The Northerner, a very fine boat, is the packet for St. Louis. We are indebted to her attentive clerks for favors. The N. will also take passengers for New Orleans, and transfer them at Cairo to the mammoth steamer Republic.

The elegant steamer Wm. Garvin leaves for Henderson this evening.

The Blue Wing leaves for the Kentucky river this evening and the Harrison Bridges for Green river.

The Fanny Bullitt was at Memphis yesterday. She is expected to arrive on Friday and will leave for New Orleans on Monday.

The Tishomingo is expected to arrive from Memphis this evening.

The Yorktown will be down from Pittsburg this morning and return to that port this evening.

The steamer Jane Franklin leaves for Wheeling this evening.

The steamer Antelope took on board at Evansville 600 barrels of flour and 87 hogsheads of tobacco—the last on the wharf. She had also, among other freight, 10,000 heads of cabbage, and was towing two barges.

Howard & Brown's wharfboat, which was aground opposite Evansville, has been floated off by the recent rise in the river.

A magnificent new boat, called the New World, has just been constructed at New York for the North river. She is 370 feet long, 48 feet of beam—80 feet over all—and 10½ feet in depth. Her wheels are 46 feet, with a face of 11 feet. The engine has a cylinder 76 inches in circumference and a stroke of 15 feet. She can accommodate 1,000 passengers, and carry 250 tons of freight. She has 540 state-rooms and 100 open berths, in all 800 berths. There are 32 family rooms, 4 large club rooms, and one elegant bridal chamber.

Mr. R. H. Waggoner has presented to us some samples of the American apple from the orchard of Dr. Jno. S. Scofield in Shelby county. They are most excellent fruit and taste none the less sweet because they are called American.

The Lexington (Mo.) Citizen says that recent storms in that section have done much damage to hemp, wheat, and corn.

THE MEETING LAST NIGHT IN BEHALF OF THE NORFOLK SUFFERERS.—We publish below the proceedings of a meeting held at the Court House last night, pursuant to a call signed by a number of our most respectable merchants, to provide means for the relief of the suffering population of Norfolk and Portsmouth, Va. These lately populous and thriving cities of the hospitable Old Dominion have been completely devastated by the fearful ravages of a plague. Hundreds have died daily. All who were able to leave have fled, but thousands remain, from affection or charity for the sick or from want of means to reach a more healthful abode. All business is suspended. The stores and banks are closed, the workshops are idle. Hundreds of families who never before knew what it was to want are without the actual necessities of life. The living are scarcely able to bury the dead.

Nearly all the principal cities in the Union have contributed their quota for the relief of these sufferers. We are sure that the charity of our citizens will be promptly manifested in this cause, and the committees for collection will receive liberal contributions from those upon whom they may call.

At a meeting held at the Court House on Tuesday night to take steps for the relief of the suffering at Norfolk and Portsmouth—

On motion Capt. T. C. Coleman was called to the chair and Will. Watkins appointed Secretary.

T. W. Riley, Esq., offered the following resolutions:

1. That the Chair appoint three persons from each ward in the city and two in the town of Portland to solicit contributions for the sufferers at Norfolk and Portsmouth.

2. That said persons be requested to meet at the Mayor's office on the 13th, at 10 o'clock, A. M., to organize and take such measures as may be deemed by them necessary.

3. That all collections made be paid over to the Mayor that he may remit to the proper authorities at Norfolk and Portsmouth.

The Chair appointed the following persons:

1st Ward—G. W. Dunlap, John Lyon, and Moore.

2d Ward—Capt. J. R. Hamilton, Jacob Smith, and Sanders Shanks.

3d Ward—T. L. Jefferson, Curran Pope, and J. S. Lithgow.

4th Ward—Col. W. Duerson, Warren Mitchell, and A. B. Sempie.

5th Ward—W. B. Belknap, J. W. Kalfus, and W. F. Pettit.

6th Ward—James Bridgeford, Thomas M. Hicks, and S. Cassaday.

7th Ward—Rev. Mr. Heywood, W. C. Hite, and Andrew Graham.

8th Ward—C. D. Pennebaker, Thomas D. Howard, and Rev. Mr. Gates.

Portland—Rev. Mr. Tydings and W. S. Butterfield.

On motion the city papers be requested to publish the proceedings.

On motion the meeting adjourned.

T. C. COLEMAN, Pres.

WILL. WATKINS, Sec'y.

COSTLY CIGARS.—Mr. Palacio, who has a cigar store under the Louisville Hotel, has just received a limited supply of cigars, which is probably the finest article of the kind ever brought here.

He has imported them from Havana for the purpose of exhibiting them at the Fair. There are five different kinds. They are beautiful. Their cost at Havana is $300 for five hundred, or 60 cent apiece.

We mislabeled the accomplished card-writer of whom we made mention yesterday. It is Levin S. Tarr. His cards are most beautifully written, with much elaborate design and many varieties of pattern. Those who wish neat visiting cards should give him a call at the Galt House.

To the Editors of the Louisville Bulletin:
KENTUCKY AGRICULTURAL AND MECHANICAL FAIR.
First Day.

LEXINGTON, Sept. 11, 1855.

GENTLEMEN: The sixth great annual exhibition of this Society is now fairly opened. Since I last attended a fair at this place the Society's grounds have been greatly improved, and a large new amphitheatre has been erected on a most extensive and improved plan, occupying a much more eligible site than the old one. The grounds too are in admirable order, thickly carpeted with a most verdant covering of Kentucky bluegrass.

The present season, so productive of fine crops, and the exceedingly pleasant weather, has called out an immense concourse of people, and what renders the fairs of Kentucky particularly interesting is the attendance of so large a proportion of ladies, who by their presence always lend enchantment to the scene. The amphitheatre is now densely crowded with this fairest portion of creation.

There is now within the ring a very respectable display of domestic fabrics of various kinds, among them a large number of quilts and other specimens of needlework. I could only obtain a telescopic glance from that section of the great amphitheatre appropriated to invited guests. You know that outsiders are never admitted within the circle of such loveliness and beauty. This is a privilege extended only to the judges. I shall send up my name as a candidate for one at the next fair.

The display of agricultural implements is rather meager. It is confined mainly to a few plows and grain-threshers and separator. Of the latter there are several by different manufacturers of other States. They are of the kind generally used in the more extensive grain-growing regions.

Of wheat, several specimens are on exhibition, as white and plump as any I have ever seen grown in this section of the West.

Of water-rotted hemp, there is quite a number of specimens, equal in quality to any that has ever been furnished to the American navy from the Russian dominions.

Of fruits and vegetables there is a very respectable display, and various other articles of which I have not time now to enumerate or to notice more fully.

The first day of the exhibition is confined to articles of domestic manufacture, including, among others, hats, shoes, leather, agricultural machines, products of the field, orchard, garden, dairy, &c. The rule of confining certain articles exclusively to each day of the exhibition is peculiar. I think, alone to Kentucky fairs. For Fayette, Bourbon, and other interior counties of the State, this is well enough. It adds a new feature, and with its increasing interest to each day of the exhibition. Every farmer, with his wife and daughters, may attend every day, and return to their homes at night, or if there are some who find it too far to do this they may return with those who live nearer, and thus increase the pleasure of the occasion, extending the holidays to the end of the week.

But this arrangement is not so applicable to a great State exhibition, and as the agricultural fairs of Louisville partake more of this character I should be glad to see other rules adopted there. Louisville, through the great natural and artificial avenues of travel, is open to all points of the country, and if the association there would establish its "Mechanics' Hall," "Manufacturers' Hall," "Floral Hall," and its "Dairy Hall," and have them well filled and arranged, each with their appropriate articles, previous to the opening of the fair, together with its acre of agricultural machines, thousands who are not able to spend a whole week in a large city, would come one day and return the next, and have a full view of the entire exhibition. But I did not come here to talk about the great fair which is to be next month in Louisville, for there will be more here worthy of notice than one can see in a fortnight, should he choose to stay so long. To-morrow is the day set apart for the exhibition of cattle, sheep, and hogs.

I regret that not more than half of the awards of premiums are returned at the time of the departure of this afternoon's cars. I will send it to you by to-morrow morning's mail.

FURTHER BY THE AFRICA.

HALIFAX, Sept. 11.

The Africa arrived at 2 o'clock, A. M., with Liverpool dates to Sept. 1.

The Asia arrived out on the evening of the 25th.

Gen's. Simpson and Pellissier report that the attack upon the Tchernaya was a deliberate attempt to raise the siege of Sebastopol.

A document was found on a dead Russian General, showing that if they had succeeded in taking the heights a further attack from four points was to have been made.

Gen. Simpson estimates the Russian force at 55,000 infantry, 6,000 cavalry and 180 guns.

The French had only 12,000 men and 4 batteries engaged and the Sardinians 4,500 men and 24 guns, while the enemy had only one battery.

The Russians carried the bridge and crowned the heights three times with great gallantry, but were repulsed and their retreat was covered by the Russian batteries.

Pellissier states the French loss at 15 officers killed, 53 wounded; 172 men killed, 150 missing, and 1,160 wounded.

The Sardinian loss was 250.

The Russian loss was 3,000 killed, 5,000 wounded, and 1,800 prisoners.

Gen. Simpson says the Redan and Malakoff were bombarded on the 17th with as much effect as was anticipated.

Gortchakoff telegraphs on the night of the 27th, affairs unchanged, but the fire of the allies occasionally very heavy.

It was reported that Gen. Simpson was sick and that Gen. Bentinck had assumed the command.

The allies were preparing to cross the Tchernaya. Active operations were delayed till this was effected.

Omar Pasha was to leave Trebizond to take the chief command in Asia.

There is nothing reliable from Kars, for Erseroum.

The Russians had reestablished communications between Genetchi and Arabat.

The Baltic fleet has retired from before Cronstadt.

It is stated that it was only the disabled gunboats that were returning home.

Private letters state that the Russian loss in Swaborg was not less than 520 men, but the Invalids says it was not more than 50 killed, and that the batteries were wholly uninjured.

A Prussian Circular indicates that the position of that Government and the Germanic Confederation was precisely the same that it was a year ago.

In reply to the Austrian remonstrances, Great Britain is understood to have stated that the question of nationalities should not be introduced for the present, as the foreign legion should be removed from the Austrian frontier.

The Irish potatoe crop, on the whole, was satisfactory.

The French news is unimportant. The crops were satisfactory.

In Belgium, a commission had been appointed to raise the tariff, and the same subject was under consideration in Spain.

A Paris rumor states that the involuntary abdication of Isabella of Spain may be looked for.

The export of breadstuffs is prohibited from the Roman States.

Advices from India report a formidable insurrection among the Santals and other tribes in Bengal.

The rebels number from 30,000 to 50,000 strong, and were destroying every thing European.

There was no military in the neighborhood.

In China the insurgents were losing ground in the north.

Messrs. Demistoun & Co.'s circular reports cotton stiffer but not notably lower.

Brown, Shiply, & Co. say that the week opened dull but became firmer.

ARRIVAL OF THE ARAGO.

New York, Sept. 11.

The Arago arrived at about half-past three this evening.

She brings 280 passengers.

The papers afford little news not embraced in the summary per Africa.

Queen Victoria returned to England on the 25th.

Pellissier telegraphs under date of Aug. 24th, that on the previous night the French carried the Russian ambuscade in the glaces of Malakoff. Subsequently 500 Russians tried to retake it, but were repulsed with a loss of three hundred men.

Napoleon, in a letter to Pellissier, thanks the army for the Tchernaya victory, and looks for a speedy end of the siege, and says that Sebastopol will soon fall. He knows by information that the Russian army cannot again sustain the struggle in the Crimea through the winter.

Two frigates bombarded the fort in the Baltic for several hours.

Government ships and stores and several forts had been destroyed by the cruisers.

The Russians are said to have donbled the garrison at Sebastopol, and had launched several vessels at Nicoloff.

Seventeen Russian gunboats came out at Riga on the 10th, and fought for two hours with the British screw steamer Hawk of 60 guns, and an 8 gun coverette. The result was indecisive.

A party of fifty first class mechanics left here to-day for Kansas. They are engaged to work on the government buildings at Fort Leavenworth.

Boston, Sept. 11.

A pure native or K. N. convention has been called to assemble in Boston on the 3d of Oct. to nominate State officers.

St. Louis, Sept. 11.

Advices from Fort Laramie report the health of the troops as good and the Indians quiet.

Baton Rouge, Sept. 11.

Mr. Lee, Telegraphic operator at Convent Station, Louisiana, died of yellow fever on Sunday morning.

LATEST NEWS.

 The Eastern mail failed again this morning. The mail, we learn, arrived at Cincinnati due time, but owing to the negligence of the person whose business it is to transfer it from the Little Miami depot to the Ohio and Mississippi depot, at Cincinnati, it is suffered to lie over there 15 hours. Is it anybody's business to have it rectified? If so we should like to see him do it forthwith. This irregularity has existed for a whole week.
